Raised in Palma de Mallorca with Spanish/Latin heritage, I began my acting studies at the Nancy Tuñón Studio in Barcelona. Later, I moved to Madrid to further develop my skills at Bululú 2120 Studio, where I completed a regular acting program and worked on various short films and university projects.

I was fortunate to receive a scholarship to the Edgemar Center of the Arts in L.A.

My experience spans across different artistic environments and formats, including dance, acting, musicals, TV series, and films, making me a versatile actor with excellent adaptability.

Additionally, I have received training in various combat sports such as boxing, Muay Thai, and MMA, among others, which has honed my proficiency in fight scenes. I also excel in other sports like soccer, tennis, and basketball, in which I have been competing since my childhood.
